4.	February 18, 2018	Marie-France DIALLO	Septicemia (She was both Catholic and Buddhist. She followed the teaching of HHDL in France and in 1995 was convinced by him not to get rid of her own religion. As this experience renewed her Catholic faith, she remained very close to Buddhism, reading regularly books and prayers. She was profoundly convinced of the deep unity of all religions and wisdoms and had told me several times she would want an Ecumenical funeral. I tried my best to organize it this way, with a Catholic celebration, Baha'is texts and then Buddhist prayers during the cremation, thanks to the Buddhist Center of Marzens (France). We had also said Buddhist prayers during three days while standing vigil over her.	70	Toulouse France
